

THE CENTRAL RECORD.

THIRTY FIRST YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 24, 1921.

NUMBER 51.

LANCASTER

Business Men's Association—Launched Last Monday Night.

About forty of the citizens and business men of Lancaster met last Monday night, following a meeting of the retail merchants held last week, and as a result of the last meeting an organization was formed and will be known as the Lancaster Business Men's Association.

Judge L. L. Walker made a pleasant and inspiring talk on, "Why a town the size of Lancaster should have a Commercial Organization," and offered many wise suggestions how such an organization could be formed and the benefits the city and community would derive from it. A suggestion was made by W. A. Farnau, that the funds of the Aero Club of America, a local organization, should be transferred to the Lancaster Business Men's Association, and thought the incorporation of the former should be dissolved and merged into the present association.

The dues of the association was fixed at $5.00 a year and Messrs. Ross Bastin, Billie Miller and Billie Mason named as a committee to solicit memberships. Judge L. L. Walker and Prof. Paul Boyd, were named to draw up the constitution and by-laws and report at its next meeting. A motion was made and duly carried that, not firms, but all individuals, of such firms be included and solicited as members of this club.

Lancaster has long needed a commercial organization and it is to be hoped that the present one will have the hearty support of the citizens of the town and community and that at least 100 members may be reported by the next meeting night.

Tobacco Market

To Close This Week.

At a meeting of the Lancaster Tobacco Board of Trade it was decided to close the tobacco market at this place, Friday, March 25th, and on this day the last sale will be held. There will be a sale at both the Garrard and Planters house. Rush in your tobacco if you expect to get in on the market this spring, as most of the markets throughout the state will close on this date.

Joe Robinson

For Senator.

(Danville Messenger.)

Since Senator Jay W. Harlan, of Danville, has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election as State Senator from this district, which is composed of Lincoln, Boyle, Garrard and Casey counties, the friends of Hon. Joe Robinson, of Lancaster, are urging him to make the race. While Mr. Robinson has made no statement in regard to the matter, his friends expect him to run for the office.

Mr. Robinson is a widely known lawyer, farmer and editor, and is popular all over the district. He is qualified in every way for the office, and as this is Garrard's time to name a candidate, Mr. Robinson should be given the place without opposition by the Democrats. He is a member of the State Central Democratic Committee and takes an active interest in the welfare of his party and of his State.

Swinebroad Sale.

Mr. G. B. Swinebroad will have a public sale of some of his personalty next Tuesday, March 29th. A choice line of farming implements will be sold for the high dollar, and as he "always sells" you may expect a bargain if you are on the grounds. Read the advertisement in this issue.

Narrow Escape

Mr. Geo. Dishon of this county and Faulkner Dishon, of Lincoln, had a rather unusual experience last Friday near Halls Gap in Lincoln county. Driving out this road from Stanford, they were run into by a man on a motorcycle, the machine striking midway between the horse and the occupants, who were in a long shaft cart. The horse, men and motorcycle were all entangled in the middle of the road, and strange to say none were seriously hurt. The machine was wrecked and the harness of the horse broken in a few places. All claimed the accident was unavoidable.

HOWARD J.

BRAZELTON, JR.

Popular Young Man Of Stanford, Dies Of Scarlet Fever.

Much sympathy is expressed for Rev. and Mrs. Howard J. Brazelton, of Stanford, over the loss of their only son, Howard, Jr., who died after a weeks illness of scarlet fever. This splendid young man was well known and well liked here where he often came during the foot-ball games last fall.

The Interior Journal has the following concerning this sad death: Howard J. Brazelton, Jr., only son of Rev. and Mrs. Howard J. Brazelton, died at his home on West Main street at 11:15 last night, after an illness of a week of scarlet fever. He was the only child of his fond parents and they are almost crushed over their irreparable loss. Every heart in this entire section goes out to them and many prayers are ascending the Throne of Grace in their behalf. Young Brazelton was 17 years old in October last and was born at Ironton, O. He joined the Christian church when 10 years old and had since been a splendid and consistent member of that church. He was secretary of the Sunday school here and was a most active and efficient one, and was foremost in church work of all kinds. He was a Senior in the Stanford school and was always at the head of his classes. He was an exceptionally bright boy, clean in every way and as polished a young gentleman as ever lived. He was popular with young and old and his death causes universal sorrow. Rev. A. W. Fortune, of Lexington, a close friend of the family, will conduct funeral services at the grave in Buffalo Spring cemetery at 3 o'clock tomorrow, Wednesday afternoon, after which all that is mortal of the splendid boy will be laid away to await the resurrection morn. Stanford loses one of its very best young men in the death of Mr. Brazelton, and many a heart is saddened by his passing. The pall-bearers will be the following young friends: Gatewood Beazley, Powell Withers, James Baughman, Henry Baughman, Woods Gover, and McKinley Nevius.

Warmoth.

On Thursday morning, March 17, 1921, the shadowy Angel of Death visited the home of Mr. Sidney Warmoth and bore to her heavenly home, the loved wife and mother, Elizabeth (Miss Elizabeth Turner) aged sixty years and two months and 22 days. She was a patient sufferer, resigned to the will of the Lord, ready and willing to go. Her last words were a prayer that her loved ones should meet her in Glory. She was a devout member of the Christian church, having confessed her faith at the early age of 13 years. A lovely character, a true wife, mother, and friend.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Mr. Sidney Warmoth, of Waynesburg, four daughters, Mrs. Wm. Prather, of Lancaster, Mrs. Ira Richards and Mrs. Della Stalter, of Kokomo, Ind., Mrs. Sherman Ressler, Indianapolis, Ind., and three sons, Mr. J. C. (Cap.) Warmoth, Holder Illinois, Mr. Walter Warmoth, Kokomo, Ind., and Mr. James Warmoth of Stanford.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor at Mt. Moriah Christian church after which burial took place at the Lancaster cemetery.

The heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends and relatives goes out to the bereaved ones in their loss. "Be comforted for she is not dead but sleepeth." —A Friend.

Christian Church Notes

Week-end Easter Services are in progress at the Christian Church. They began Wednesday evening. The services begin at 7:30.

Miss Lettie Bonta of Harrodsburg is leading the choir and singing a solo at every service. Miss Bonta has had special voice culture in Chicago and was on the Red path Lyceum Course for several seasons. She is a young woman of fine personality and has a splendid voice. The people are enjoying her very much.

Mr. Bourland, the minister, is doing the preaching. His subjects for the remainder of the week are as follows: Thursday evening, "The Cup;" Friday evening, "His Mother;" Saturday evening, "Pilate's Wife;" and Sunday morning, "Alive to God." The public is earnestly invited to attend the services.

YOUNG SON

Of Mr. And Mrs. John Adams Dies.

The death last Thursday afternoon of Overt Lee Adams, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, who live on the Sugar Creek pike, was a severe shock to the devoted family, as well as to those who are his friends and neighbors.

He was a splendid young fellow and his death falls heavily upon his grief stricken family and is a source of sorrow to his many little friends, who were his neighbors and school mates. All that medical skill and science could do was done for him, but without avail, he having been stricken with an abscess of the brain, and suffered intensely before the end came, although conscious up until an hour before his death.

He was a member of the Christian church. Services were conducted by Rev. E. B. Bourland at the Lancaster cemetery last Friday afternoon, interment following immediately.

Smith.

Last Saturday night about ten o'clock Mr. George Smith, Sr., 83 years of age, passed away at his home on Lexington street after a short illness of less than a week, the immediate cause of his death being a cerebral hemorrhage. In the death of Mr. Smith, Lancaster loses another of her oldest and most respected citizens. Born in Woodford county, Kentucky, he moved to Lancaster, when quite a young man and for the past fifty years or more has been one of our leading architects and contractors.

He is survived by three children, Messrs. James and George Smith, Jr., and daughter, Miss Eliza Smith, all of this city. His wife having preceded him to the grave about 18 months ago.

Short funeral services were conducted at the home last Monday afternoon, by Rev. E. B. Bourland, assisted by Rev. Price Smith, after which interment followed in the following in the Lancaster cemetery.

HARDING

Calls An Extra Session

APRIL 11 NAMED AS DATE FOR MEETING.

Washington, March 22—A formal call for an extra session of Congress, to meet April 11, and receive legislative recommendations from the new Administration was issued today by President Harding.

None of the specific problems to be laid before the legislative branch were named in the proclamation, the President merely declaring that an extraordinary occasion required that Congress convene "to receive such communications as may be made by the executive."

Mr. Harding already has indicated, however, that the tariff and taxation will be foremost in his message to the special session. He is expected to make a special plea for prompt relief to the nation's agricultural interests, and the list of the recommendations may touch many other subjects such as the railway situation, the merchant marine and immigration.

LOCAL

WAREHOUSE

Wins Suit Against The Home Tobacco Warehouse Of Richmond.

A suit of unusual interest and one that was fought out by the best legal talent of this city and Richmond, was concluded in the Circuit court here yesterday, when the jury returned a verdict in favor of the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse Company for the sum of $7,354.40 against the Home Tobacco Warehouse Company of Richmond, Ky.

The suit grew out of the purchase of tobacco by W. P. Kincaid on the floors of the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse during the season of 1919 and 1920.

The tobacco was sent to the Home Warehouse by Mr. Kincaid and again sold over its floors. The checks for this tobacco were given by Mr. Kincaid and the three first checks were paid by the defendants, but the fourth check amounting to about $10,000 was refused payment by them and as a result the check was protested. Kincaid claimed that the Home Tobacco Warehouse authorized him to buy tobacco on the floors of this house and his checks would be paid. The Home House denied that they had given Kincaid unlimited credit and refused to pay any more checks, but failed to notify either Kincaid or the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse.

The plaintiffs took the ground that the defendants were liable for the amount of all the checks and the jury so decided. The amount asked for and rendered them by the jury, was the difference in the price that the weed was bought for and after sold at. The jury was unanimous in its verdict. It is understood the case will be appealed.

HOT CLUE

Identity of Manse Burglary Known.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a certain party, whom it is believed robbed the store of Ledford and Ramsey at Manse last Saturday night and the parties will probably be taken in charge in a day or so.

The store was entered through a back window and about $200.00 worth of merchandise taken, beside about $25.00 in cash which was extracted from the money drawer.

Exchange.

Good Easter Eats for sale Saturday at Ball's Grocery, by the ladies of the Baptist church. Prices right! Give us a call. 1t-pd.

New Fountain.

A handsome new soda fountain is being installed in McRoberts drug store this week and will be open for business tomorrow. It is direct from the firm of the Bishop-Babcock Company and is said to be the last thing in a modern and sanitary fountain.

New Firm.

Messrs. Leslie Herndon and Wm. Jones, two former Lancaster citizens, after spending five years at Akron, Ohio, have returned to Lancaster and have opened up a tube and tire shop, where they are prepared to do all vulcanizing and such repairs as may be necessary. Give them a call. They guarantee their work and so say in an advertisement that appears in this issue.

Herron Acquitted.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth against Luther Herron for the killing of Robert Strange, rendered a verdict of not guilty in the circuit court here last Saturday, after a consultation of less than one hour.

Some trouble was had in securing a jury as many formed and expressed an opinion in the case, thus disqualifying them as jurors. About three hundred were summoned from various sections of the county before a competent jury was found.

Card Of Thanks.

We are deeply grateful to the many friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful in extending their help and sympathy, during the illness and after the death of our beloved boy, the loss of whom has crushed us with deep sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams.

BASE BALL

Lancaster High School.

Material Is Being Whipped Into Shape For Proving Nine.

Formal practice for the High School baseball season was opened Monday of last week and has continued without interruption. Thanks to the favors of the local weather man.

About 20 to 25 men have been out for practice each afternoon, and several of these have already begun to show that they can deliver the goods and all have given proof that they will make the nine or else give the lucky fellow the fight of his life.

Before the season opened there was some doubt about battery material and it was said openly that we were hopelessly weak there. But a week's time has been sufficient to allay many of those doubts.

The right kind of material for each place on the nine is out on the diamond every day and is developing splendidly in practice.

Every H. S. pupil remembers what the foot ball team did and the same degree of success is possible for them this spring.

They are out to work and win. Their new suits are here and are dandies and they are eager to christen them with a nice victory on April Fools' Day.

The following is schedules for the Local Nine:

April 1—Threlkeld School—Here
April 15—Madison H. School—Here
April 22—Threlkeld School—There.
Apr. 29—Madison H. School—There.
May 13—Richmond Model School—There
May 27—Richmond Model School—Here.

Come on High School! Let's go! The whole community knows what you did last fall and they believe in you strong! They will all be out to see you start the season off on the right foot, too.

FRANCE'S STANDARD ARMY

Now Biggest In World.

732,000 In Regular Force; U. S. Army Is Reduced To 175,000.

Following closely the action of the House and Senate in overriding President Wilson's veto of the joint resolution ordering a suspension of recruiting until the number of men in the United States Army has been reduced to 175,000, Secretary of War Baker sent to Congress a statement of the comparative strengths of the armies of other nations. Secretary Baker's figures show that France has the greatest standing army in the world but that Italy, counting its active and reserve forces is the world's leading military power.

France has 732,000 men in its regular force, consisting of conscripted French and Colonial troops and 1,560,000 in the reserve the figures indicated. Italy has 350,000 regulars and 4,627,000 reserves, the first line reserves numbering 3,000,000 mobile militiamen. Other figures in the Secretary's report were:

Japan: Regular army, 273,000; first reserve, 522,000; second reserve, 667,000; national army (between the ages of 37 and 40) 246,000, with 200,000 men enrolled for replacements.

Great Britain: White troops, 295,000; native and colonial troops, 130,000; territorials, 293,000.

Germany: 150,000, with 85,000 armed police and 500,000 additional emergency volunteers. The German army must be reduced to 50,000 men under the Treaty of Versailles.

Money For Farmers.

The Farm Loan Association is represented in this county by G. B. Swinebroad and through him loans can be negotiated from the Federal Land Bank. Any farmer desiring such loan should consult Mr. Swinebroad at once.

Body Delayed.

The body of Jesse Calico that should have reached Paint Lick last Tuesday, has been delayed on the road some where and the family have been unable to locate it. It was at first thought it was in Louisville, where 52 bodies of Kentucky boys were brought last Tuesday, but the body of young Calico was not among them.

"BROUGHT UP"

BY THE L. & N.

Wible Mapother, the New President, Started As Messenger Boy

(Louisville Post)

Wible L. Mapother who was elected president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company to succeed Milton H. Smith, who died Feb. 22, is expected to return from New York in a few days and assume the reins of the system.

Mr. Mapother is a practical railroad man and despite the fact he has had thirty-three years experience with the road he now heads he is one of the youngest transportation chiefs in the country, being 49 years old now. On October 17, 1888, Mr. Mapother, then a lad of 16, entered the employ of the road as a messenger boy, but from the first he showed a keen interest in the company's affairs.

A year later found young Mapother in the executive department controlled by Mr. Smith. J. T. Harahan, a present-day wizard of traffic, was secretary at that time and Eckstein Norton was president. Both Messrs. Harahan and Norton took an interest in young Mapother and helped him along.

As time went on young Mapother became more and more a part of the system, and in 1905, at the wish of Mr. Smith, Mr. Mapother was elected first vice president, holding that office until July 7, 1918, when he was appointed Federal manager of the Louisville & Nashville and the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroads by William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Mapother reverted back to the vice presidency after the dissolution of the United States Railway Administration, and soon after he was named chief executive officer because of the infirm condition of Mr. Smith.

Born in Louisville, September 28, 1872, Mr. Mapother is the son of D. H. Mapother and Mary Cruise Mapother. He attended the graded schools here, and began his business career at the age of 16. Mr. Mapother married Miss Amelia Porter, of Anchorage. They have one daughter, Mrs. Leonard Strater.

BILLY SUNDAY

Awakening Cincinnati.

Some High Lights Taken From The Evangelist's Sermons.

(Billy Sunday at Cincinnati.)

You cannot raise the standard of morals by raising the scale of wages; you've got to go higher than the pay envelope to find out the cause of vice and virtue—and it's in the hearts of men and women.

Some people are so darned stingy that they never give away 10 cents that they don't sing, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

I have met people so contemptibly stingy that they talked through their nose to keep from wearing their false teeth out. They'd steal a fly from a blind spider.

An angel of Heaven could not come to Cincinnati and live two weeks and loaf with the people you loaf with and then return to heaven without first being disinfected and fumigated and given a bath in lysol and carbolic acid.

A man said to me: "It was a mighty little thing to drive Adam and Eva out of the Garden of Eden because they ate an apple." God didn't give a rap about the apple. It was the principle.

Come on, you forces of iniquity. I defy every one of you traducers; come on, you triple extract of infamy; come on, you assassins of character; come on, you defamers of God and enemies of the church; come on, you bull-necked beetle-browed, hog-jowled, peanut brained, weasel-eyed four-floushers, false alarms and excess baggage. In the name of God, I challenge and defy you.

Baptist Church Notes

NOTHING FOR NOTHING

"I WAS feeling bad this afternoon, and Mrs. Pollywog heard about it and brought me over some chicken broth," announced the landlady. "I thought it was very kind of her. Such considerate actions convince us that human nature is all right."

"They don't convince me, to any great extent," objected the star boarder. "No body ever does a good deed without expecting a reward, Mrs. Jiggers. In highly moral books intended for the young, people do such things, but never in real life."

Mrs. Pollywog will be over tomorrow to borrow your fountain pen or your tortoiseshell comb, or perhaps she will come visiting for a few days, and the cost of entertaining her would buy several barrels of chicken broth.

"I hate to have anybody do me a kindness, knowing I'll be expected to return the favor with interest in one way or another. When I was a mere boy my eyes were opened to the fact that kind actions are a delusion and a snare. Next door to us there lived an old dame named Mrs. Crimp. One day she came over to our house with a pair of wooden socks she had knitted for me. I suppose an equally good pair could have been bought at the trade palace for fifteen cents, and I wasn't overwhelmed with joy. My mother, who, with all her splendid qualities, was an easy mark, and inclined to find good in everything and everybody, was enthusiastic over Mrs. Crimp's generosity."

"But even in my infant years I was gifted with the wisdom of the serpent, and I felt from the first that there was some malevolent scheme in the background."

"The scheme was soon developed. Mrs. Crimp had many chores to do, and she hated to do them herself. There was wood to be carried into the house, and the cow to be taken care of, and a hundred other unprofitable tasks. Every time I'd meet her she'd say, 'Well, my sweet little boy, with your golden ringlets and sunny smile, how do you like the socks I made you? If you only knew how I worked, so you would have the best socks in town! And that reminds me of a little errand I wish you would do for me. Go to Mr. Jinks, who lives seven miles north, and ask him to let you have his saw, so you can cut some kindling for me tomorrow.'"

"First and last, Mrs. Jiggers, I put in $1,000 worth of manual labor for that woman and my youth was poisoned, and my manhood embittered by it. I might have forgiven everything had the socks been good ones, but they were atrocious. The heels always worked down over my shoes."

"It has been that way all my life. When a man insists upon doing me a kindness I look upon him with suspicion. When I was laid up in my room with a broken leg two or three years ago, I had an excellent time. The leg hurt only at intervals, and I had plenty of novels to read, and nothing to worry over, and I would have enjoyed myself splendidly but for tiresome philanthropists who were determined to sit by my bedside and cheer me up. I didn't need any cheering up, and I tried to convince them that their visits had the opposite effect, but they wouldn't take a hint. They sat by my couch of suffering and told idiotic stories, and bored me almost to death."

"Jim Higginbottom was an especial nuisance. That man simply wouldn't go away as long as there was an excuse for staying. He said his conscience wouldn't allow him to forsake the bedside of a suffering friend. At that time I carried some accident insurance, and when my check came Jim borrowed half of it, and after he got the money he never worried over my leg any more. And he never returned any of the money. I don't blame him for that, for I made it a rule never to return borrowed money, but I can't easily forgive him for boring me so many hours, when I wanted to be reading."

Obedient Orders.

"How is it I have such big telegraph bills?"
"You told me, sir, to use dispatch in that correspondence, so I wired all the letters."

All Have Obligations.

Every citizen has obligations in the community in which he lives. Whether a man is prominent or not he is expected to do his part in helping bring about normal conditions in this country.

A Pretty Good Method.

"Why do you encourage your boy to send his verses to the magazines? Do you want him to be a poet?" "No, merely want him to get the conceit knocked out of him, that's all."

SEE ADVANTAGES IN CO-OPERATION

Most Effective Organizations Found Where Farmers Were Drawn Together.

MANY OBSTACLES OVERCOME

That Principles Are Fundamentally Sound and Practical Is Proven by 14,000 or More Successful Societies Now Working.

The success or failure of a farm depends almost entirely upon the results obtained in marketing the products grown. Experience has proved that the farmer who undertakes to market his products through speculators or who attempts to ship and market them in some very distant market is laboring under a great disadvantage.

Marketing is a specialized function and is really the most serious problem confronting the farmer today, and the rank and file of farmers are not equipped to perform this service for themselves in a satisfactory manner. Many difficulties encountered in marketing farm crops have been overcome through the organization and operation of farmers' co-operative marketing associations. Co-operative marketing has passed the experimental stage, and the 14,000 or more examples of successful organizations in operation in this country offer positive proof that the principles of co-operative marketing are fundamentally sound and practical.

Work of Organization.

The most successful co-operative organizations confine their efforts to the shipping and marketing of certain specialized products, such as citrus fruits, apples, peaches, potatoes, melons, poultry and eggs, dairy products, live stock, tobacco and grains. The substantial growth of co-operative marketing activities in this country is perhaps best illustrated by the fact that the aggregate volume of business done in a single year through co-operative associations and exchanges runs up into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

The handling of farm crops by groups of farmers through central associations and exchanges offers many advantages, such as the improvement and standardization of grading and packing; the obtaining and use of reliable crop and market information; the intelligent development of permanent markets; the effecting of savings through the collective sale of farm products and purchase of farm supplies; the proper financing of all activities, including the building of warehouses, the preparation of crops for market, and their movement to the markets; and the employment of trained and efficient business and sales management.

An organization founded on dire need with a well-defined purpose has the best chances of success. Farmers who are satisfied with the results obtained without an organization do not feel a need for an association. Necessity for an organization may arise from the lack of marketing facilities, or from dissatisfaction with existing agencies. When a co-operative marketing association is under consideration it is advisable to have a preliminary survey made by competent local people or by experienced co-operative organization specialists from the United States Department of Agriculture, whose advice and services are available upon request. In making such a survey care should be taken to ascertain the need for an organization, the attitude of the farmers toward such an undertaking, and the approximate development of business available.

Manager Is Keystone.

The manager is the keystone of the organization. His selection is of the utmost importance. He should be experienced in marketing the line of products entrusted to his care; he should possess tact and good judgment, and be honest and above suspicion. The success of the organization depends upon his ability to meet the members and the trade with which the organization deals, and to retain their confidence. He should possess the proper qualifications for the position; he should be given broad powers and the hearty support of the members in his work, together with a salary that will attract ability and be commensurate with the services expected of him.

In a moment of mental aberration we started in to peruse the society columns of a big city newspaper, in hopes of finding something more harrowing than our thoughts. We found it. That bird of a reporter portrayed every chromo in skirts in the social register as an angel of beauty, a goddess of virtue, and a paragon of intelligence. All of which, you know, is quite which.

Quit Laxatives, Purges; Try NR

NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, colic, oil, purges, and cathartics and force bowel action. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary? You can do so. If you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

American Legion News

A gain of forty-four posts of the American Legion and ninety-three units of its Women's Auxiliary was made during the week ending March 12th. Missouri Department of the Legion led with five posts chartered and Massachusetts and Kansas reported twelve and eleven new units, respectively, of the Auxiliary. There are now 10,272 Legion posts and 2,292 units of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Architects from all parts of the country will be invited to submit designs and plans for the $15,000,000 Indiana War Memorial building, which will house National Headquarters of the American Legion. A fund of $100,000 was granted by the Indiana legislature for prizes and expenses of the contest. The National Institution of Architecture will determine the winner of the first prize of $50,000.

F. W. Galbraith, Jr., National

Commander of the American Legion, has ordered the Kansas Department of that organization to make a thorough investigation of the recent outrage at Great Bend, Kan., in which two organizations of the Non-partisan League were tarred and feathered. Although the mob of residents of that vicinity included a number of ex-service men, there was no organized support from Legion posts, according to press correspondents. Colonel Galbraith ordered all Legion posts to refrain from interference with the political activities of the Nonpartisan League several months ago.

The increased cost of railroad fare will not trouble the members of Superior, Wis. post of the American Legion, who will attend the next Legion state convention at Eau Claire in box cars. "We traveled France in side door Pullmans and we believe that we prefer the Yankee type of box cars to riding the velvet at present prices," the Legionnaires said.

The California Department of the American Legion has received copies of a resolution adopted by the Central Labor Council, San Bernardino, Cal., recommending adequate appropriations for the bureau caring for disabled veterans, appropriations to build and maintain necessary hospitals and passage of the Rogers-Capper bill to consolidate the government bureaus dealing with the affairs of ex-service men, as endorsed by the Legion.

Graves of 150 Civil War veterans will be provided with markers by Kent Voyles Post of the American Legion at Elizabethtown, Ind. To raise funds for the undertaking, the Legionnaires will give a banquet of "slum," prepared by former Army cooks belonging to the post. Elizabethtown Legion members are also backing a movement to establish a public library.

American Legion posts and the Home Service department of the Red Cross in Detroit have consolidated efforts under the name of the Service Men's Bureau, and will co-operate in the work of adjusting claims, hospitalization, education and War Risk insurance for ex-service men.

A special election will be held in Oregon to approve or reject the veteran's state bonus bill, prepared and backed by the Oregon Department of the American Legion.

Aroused by the greed of landlords in Shreveport, La., the local post of the American Legion has placed itself on record as opposed not only to the hardship placed upon renters living in homes and occupying office and business buildings owned by rent hogs, but as pledging its aid in seeking a remedy for the evil.

Nebraska American members are backing an endowment bill in the state legislature, which provides that the state buy two millions dollars worth of Liberty bonds and use interest thereon for sick and disabled ex-service men. The Nebraska legislature has forwarded a resolution urging the United States Senate to pass the Fordney five-fold bonus bill, which is backed by the Legion.

Cleaning out cellars and building summer cottages are examples of temporary jobs which the St. Paul, Minn. employment bureau and Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion have obtained for more than six hundred unemployed veterans after an appeal has been made every employer and householder in that city. The average compensation for temporary employment is fifty cents an hour. Farmers near the Twin cities are taking advantage of the opportunity to obtain ex-service men as farm hands and are paying from $50 a month, with room and board, upwards.

Oklahoma boards of county commissioners are authorized to lease, rent or donate any room in their control for use of the American Legion, according to the terms of a bill passed by the state legislature.

More than 1,600 new members were obtained for the American Legion in Virginia during the last two months in spite of unfavorable agricultural and industrial conditions.

$20,000,000 Yet To Be Raised To Save Starving China.

Funds for the 40,000,000 inhabitants of the five North central provinces in the famine area of China were collected Sunday in Sunday Schools of all denominations throughout Kentucky, as the culmination of the week of self denial observed by all the churches. The appeal for the observance of self denial week was issued by the Rev. Dr. E. Y. Millins, Chairman of the China Famine Fund, and in it he urged that some food luxury be omitted each day and the money thus saved be contributed toward the famine fund.

Through the Chinese Famine Fund

money is cabled to China as fast as collected and distributed to the relief organizations in the famine stricken districts; among these organizations being the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Rockefeller Foundation and various missionary and religious organizations.

It is estimated that $20,000,000 yet must be raised to save the great population of northern China from starvation. Already, according to the Rev. P. B. Hill, Louisville pastor, who served as a missionary in China, the death rate is in excess of 1,500 a day and but for the Red Cross and Salvation nursing units typhus would have wiped out thousands of lives. There are five of these units in the field fighting typhus and should the disease become epidemic in April, as feared by the relief workers, there are fifty more units in reserve.

The separation of families, the Rev. Mr. Hill says is one of the terrible results of the famine. Whole families are being wiped out by starvation and the people seem to be in a panic of fear, he says, aimlessly walking from place to place and when too weak to continue further, lie down by the roadsides to die. Those with children plead with each passer-by to take their child to save it from starvation. Those natives who take the children force them to grow up in worse than slavery, the missionaries say. These persons from far off communities are taking all the male children they can find and are buying the land of the famine victims at one tenth of its value in normal times, it is pointed out by the Rev. Mr. Hill.

How To Cook An Old Ham—Vinegar, Sugar And Cloves.

Many farmers and farmers' wives on farms where hogs are butchered have their own idea about how hams should be cooked to best please the appetite. Here is the way specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture do it. These directions are contained in Farmers' Bulletin 1186, "Pork on the Farm—Killing, Curing and Canning," just published by the department.

Soak several hours, remove all mold and loose pieces, and rinse well. Cover with cold water, add two tablespoons of vinegar, one-half cup brown sugar, four cloves, and one bay leaf, and heat to boiling. The amount of cloves and bay leaf may be increased, if desired, especially for larger hams.

Reduce the heat to a constant simmer and allow to cook at this temperature at the rate of 20 minutes for each pound of weight.

Remove from fire, but keep the ham in the liquor in which it was cooked until cold; then remove from the container and allow to drain.

Take off the skin, score the fat in inch blocks, and cover with a coating of brown sugar and crumbs. Stick with cloves one inch apart.

Bake in a slow oven until nicely browned, basting at intervals with one-half cup of water and one tablespoonful of vinegar.

Lancaster School Notes

The school has been decorated this past week by so many flowers which the generous pupils have given their teachers, all desks of the teachers have had a fresh supply each morning.

Reception.

Misses Robinson and Sexton gave a "St. Patrick's Day" reception last Thursday evening at the school building. The guests were the Seniors, Juniors and former Foot-ball boys.

Everybody was asked to tell an Irish joke. It was decided by popular vote that Mr. Otta Moore told the funniest joke. In the contest of words beginning with Pat, Mr. S. D. Cochran received the prize. In pinning the shamrock on the flag of Ireland, Geo. W. Lawson won the prize.

Delicious refreshments were served: Small shamrocks and Irish flags were given as favors. The guests were entertained by interesting games and Irish selections on the victrola. All departed saying that they had a delightful time and enjoyed very much the hospitality of the charming entertainers.

The suits of the Base Ball boys arrived last week and were very satisfactory. The first base ball game will take place about the first of April. We hope these games will be as interesting as foot ball.

Miss Eliza Smith has been absent from school on account of the illness and death of her father. This greatly grieves the High School for most of them were formerly Miss Eliza's students.

The seventh and eighth grades have chosen their colors, purple and gold for the Junior High School banner. The eighth grade went 100 per cent in paying for the banner. Mr. Boyd was chosen one of the judges on a debate last Friday, held at State University in Lexington.

Freshmen News

The Freshmen have finished "Old Testament Narratives," and have now started "Treasure Island." This is a very interesting sea story and all the boys like it very much. Miss Robinson has asked us not to read ahead but it is a great temptation.

The Freshmen have been laboring under some extra hard Algebra problems and very happy because Miss Beard announced that we were taking up easy work tomorrow. Our Science class has been studying plants and trees. This is very interesting and enjoyable work. Our Latin class is progressing very rapidly. We have just finished the declension of nouns and taking up Latin adverbs.

Social News.

We were very sorry to hear that Miss Syler was unable to be at school Monday and have her regular sewing class. She is very sick with mumps, but we hope she will soon be well and able to be back with her class.

Clyde Holtzelaw is very sick with the chicken pox and will not be able to attend school for two weeks. Clyde is greatly missed by all his class mates and they all wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Sexton spent the week-end at her home in Lexington.

Miss Westover is very sick and has to suspend her school work. All the school will be glad when she returns.

Rev. Bourland made a splendid talk in chapel last Tuesday morning.

A pretty, young lady stepped up to the counter in the music store, where Clyde was arranging some songs. As he turned to wait upon her, she said, in her sweetest and most appealing tones: "Have you Kissed

"No, ma'ma," said he in confusion, as his face reddened. "It must have been the man at the other counter. I've only been here a week and do not remember ever seeing you before."

To Write Good English.

To be able to write good and pure English, one must habitually dwell and sympathize with men and women who write English of this character. Any young student who reads and enjoys Goldsmith, Jane Austen, Walter Scott, Macaulay, Froude, Stevenson, and other writers of similar rank, will certainly come in time to write good and pure English himself.--Melkilejohn.

Invisible Inks.

Of the many sympathetic inks which become visible on exposure of the writing to heat, following are a few examples: Weak solution of copper nitrate or perchloride of copper, strong solution of caustic potash, the juices of lemon, onion and other vegetables. Milk or buttermilk used on unglazed paper with a clean new pen will not show; a hot flatiron is the best way to show it up.

We want you to notice also the neat, substantial construction of this harrow. You will readily understand why it lasts longer.

Uncle Walt's Story

DOMINANT WOMAN

"THERE'S much truth in the old saying that a bachelor is merely half a man," observed the professor. "I suppose you are trying to take a fall out of me because I don't get married," said the low-browed man. "It may be true that a bachelor is only a half a man, but when he accumulates a wife, he's usually only a quarter of a man, or maybe one-eighth. The more I see of married men, the more thankful I am that I have never looked up at the altar with an orange wreath on my head.

"Old Doolittle has been married a long time, and he's got so used to being bossed by his wife that he doesn't know what to do when she isn't around. If you offered to lend him $5 he'd say he'd have to consult Eliza Jane about it. One time, when his wife was away, visiting, he ate about a peck of green cucumbers, and the colic shut him up like a folding bed. It was the worst case I ever saw. I heard him yelling for the police, and when I rushed over there and saw him on the floor, with his feet clasped across the back of his neck, I phoned for a doctor at once. We put him to bed, and the agony that man endured was sickening. And as he rolled around there, expecting to go off the hooks every minute, he kept saying, 'What will Eliza Jane say when she hears I called in a doctor?'"

"After his wife came back, I was over at their house one night, and she roared me to a crisp for sending for a doctor. She said that if I had the first instincts of a gentleman I'd pay the bill, for I wasn't authorized to call in a sawbones, and she didn't want one in the house. Doolittle sat there and heard his wife roasting me until my whiskers curled and, although he knew the doctor saved his life, he never said a word.

"After I left the house, he sneaked out and overtook me, and told me he was sorry for what had happened, but experience had taught him that it's no use to butt in when his wife has the floor.

"Gooseworthy came over this morning while I was feeding the cows, and told me a tale of woe. His wife has about five hundred female relations, aunts and step-sisters and cousins and such people, and she keeps the house full of them all the time. He has to sleep on a sanitary couch in the hall, while his own feather bed is occupied by an aunt who weighs about 400 pounds. He has a comfortable rocking chair he bought for his own private use, and now he never gets a whack at it. His wife's step-sister, who brought her tortoise-shell cat along, is always using it. He said he was getting plumb disgusted with such a condition of affairs, but he didn't know what to do.

"I asked him why he didn't read the authorized version of the riot act to his wife, and tell her to ship all those relics out of the house. He seemed shocked at the suggestion. 'You don't know what you're talking about,' he said. 'You've never been married.'

"The queer thing about it is that Gooseworthy is a great stickler for his rights when he's away from home. He's as sassy as a bobcat, and will fight at the drop of the hat if anybody tries to impose on him. He walks with his head back and his chest out in front of him, but as soon as he reaches his own front gate he begins to look so blamed abject that the neighbors pity him.

"Then, there's old Major Sendoff, who distinguished himself on many a crimson battlefield. He has courage enough for three regiments. But he married the Widow Bunkum a couple of years ago and she makes him do the family washing, and hang the clothes on the line, and I suppose he does the ironing, too. I could tell you of a hundred such cases."

"I suppose you could," sighed the professor, "but I don't care for sensational fiction."

IN THE SPRING TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN.

Restores The Quality
Of Blood. Drives Out
Impurities. Builds
Up The Red
Corpuscles.

IMPROVES THE COMPLEXION.

A Standby Among Physicians For 30 Years. In Tablet As Well
As Liquid Form.

You notice complexion in the Spring. People who have plenty of rich red blood have lips a deep, rosy red, eyes bright and clear. Good complexions are based on the solid foundation of good blood, with plenty of red corpuscles. When blood becomes clogged with impurities, when the red corpuscles are not absorbing enough oxygen from the lungs and distributing it to the cells throughout the body, good complexions fade. Not only that, but you feel tired and exhausted all the time. Your shoulders droop and you lounge around and lean against anything handy. You lack energy because your blood is weak and thin—not enough red corpuscles.

People call it "Spring Fever." Call it what you will, it is bad blood. It weakens powers of resistance.

If you feel that way you should take that exceptionally good blood tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan, for a while. It will make rich red blood. For thirty years it has been a standby among physicians. It will help you to build up this Spring. All that comes from having good blood with plenty of red corpuscles will come to you.

When you go to your druggist's be sure to get the genuine Gude's Pepto-Mangan with the name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package. It is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both have the same medicinal value. (Advertisement.)

There are people, though, who find it quite difficult to be both sensitive and sensible.

In the matter of prosecuting the slackers the government itself is something of a slacker.

Many people are not content with their troubles until they have added a bunch of imaginary ones.

And still, it isn't so much a matter of high prices as it is of fools who think it is smart to pay them.

It's true, though, that prohibition is creating a lot of tightwads in this country. Nobody wants to divvy up his little stock in reserve.

A lot of people who have been praising Mr. Harding to the skies will soon be cursing him as energetically—when he appoints the other fellow.

Is This A Square Deal?

The war department and certain civilian agencies are fostering a plan to establish a series of citizens military training camps in this country.

It is understood that the government will furnish transportation, subsistence and uniforms, while the student would be required to devote his time free of charge.

The main object of these camps would be to educate the public up to the necessity of universal military training, which congress has so far refused to sanction.

On the surface this would appear to be a praiseworthy move.

But is it?

The rich man's son and the young man in comfortable circumstances can afford to devote a month of his time to attending these camps without remuneration. He would therefore be in line for a commission in the army AT ONCE in the event of war.

The poor young man, who can not afford to lose the time from his business without compensation, has no hope of attending such a camp, no matter how many natural qualifications he might possess that go into the making of an acceptable army officer. Buck private in the ranks is the prize that awaits him. Yet he must pay his proportion of taxes for the purpose of maintaining these camps for the benefit of those who are more fortunately situated.

If it is necessary to maintain training camps in order to educate men for responsible positions in time of war there should be no favoritism shown.

The transportation, uniforms and subsistence furnished by the government are paid for by all the people.

If congress desires to be fair in the matter it will pay each man who attends a reasonable sum to compensate him for the time he loses from his business, at least an amount equal to the pay of a second lieutenant, the lowest commissioned grade in the army.

Then the privilege of attending the camps should be apportioned out to the several states and counties in proportion to population the local authorities to make the selections from those who apply.

If congress is not willing to do this, or something equally fair, then it should do nothing at all, and there should be no camps, unless private individuals desire to conduct them entirely at their own expense.

To give the subject a purely local application, how many young men in this community are in a position to give a month of their time FREE OF CHARGE in order to attend these camps for the purpose of providing greater security for ALL OF THE PEOPLE?

This country is not out of the woods of war. It will need defenders for many years to come. It will need many men competent to step into commissioned ranks.

But in organizing the camps that produce these officers we should give every section of country and every class of our citizens an equal opportunity and a square deal.

If congress will add the item of compensation to the appropriation for these camps, together with provisions for an apportionment of attendance privileges, we believe the scheme would be ideal and patriotic to a degree, and would meet with popular approval.

But to spend the money of all of the people for the benefit of those who are more fortunately situated financially we consider undemocratic, ungenerous and un-American.

Getting Back

To Normal.

Nearly everybody is having something to say about what ought to be done to bring this country back to normal. It is invariably the case, however, that such remarks apply only to the other fellow.

Many people are of the opinion that prices should return to the pre-war level, but it is doubtful if they ever will. Certainly it can never be done without a literal invoking of the law of supply and demand, and that is something the speculators will frustrate at all hazards.

The manufacturer, having gorged himself on huge profits, will never again be satisfied with modest ones. He will eventually come down considerably, a few pennies at a time, but it will be a herculean task to move him at all.

The labor unions are putting up a tremendous fight against any material reduction in wages, although it is generally conceded that as long as the price of labor remains up there can be no great reduction elsewhere.

The stockholder wants big dividends in order to meet high living costs. The same applies to the merchant and his profits, and to the doctor and the lawyer and the undertaker and their fees.

In every line you meet the same conditions. Nobody feels that he can afford to reduce his own prices until there has been a corresponding reduction in the articles he is forced to buy.

Who, then, is to make the start?

The farmer has done it. His profits have been about wiped out by a falling market on farm products, because he is compelled to continue paying high prices for everything that he uses.

The great trouble is, the rest of the country is not following the farmer in the downward trend. If it were to do so, we would be back to something approaching normal in a hurry.

Congress apparently is unable to solve the problem, and if congress is impotent we of this community cannot be expected to waste our time in beating against an impassable barrier.

There is, however, one thing that we can do. That is to go to work and stay at work and do more work and less talking.

We can regulate our own actions, and if those actions are along the lines of increased activity and productivity we will be doing our share toward bringing the country back to normal—whatever normal may be.

Big Cities And Little Towns

Are you still pining to live in a big city, where the bright lights glare and revelry reigns supreme? You might try it out and send us your experiences for publication.

A year ago a young married man purchased a home in the outskirts of Chicago for $7,000 on the time payment plan, the monthly payments being rather heavy.

Then business slacked up, his income decreased, and he found it impossible to meet his payments.

He has just sold out at a loss and is renting a four room flat for which he is required to pay $75 a month.

There are said to be 75,000 families in Chicago who are doubling up with other families because there are no houses or flats for them to occupy. And the experience of Chicago is much like that of any other large city in the country.

There may not be as much glitter and glamour in this town as there is to be found in a large city, but there is a deal of satisfaction in knowing that a person's soul is his own and that he does not have to be gouged front and back every time he turns around.

There are worse places than the old home town.

Millions And Morality.

Almost as regularly as clock-work we read in the daily press where some millionaire is suing his wife for divorce, or is being sued himself or both.

Generally there follows a mass of moral filth that is amazing and almost beyond belief. Like dirty linen, it all comes out in the wash, but unlike the linen, the principals can hardly lay claims to purity as a result of their legal bath.

This is a queer world. As long as we are poor we are able to live comparatively decent lives. But let great wealth come our way and we immediately begin to yearn for the vices and frivolities it will buy.

It would be far better for the human race if we were to forego a majority of the "pleasures" of wealth and retain the respectability that is inherent in mankind in the days of his poverty.

Millions and morality do not always harmonize.

Here And There.

Harry Gordon Selfridge, one of London's leading department store owners, has been on a visit to this country.

He says prices are down all over England and that the war time profiteer is no longer in evidence. He even says that a perfectly good woolen dress—genuine wool—can be purchased in London for five dollars.

Just fancy being able to purchase a woolen dress over here for five dollars.

But, on second thought, it is better not to do any fancying. It gives one too much of a jolt when the Americanized bill bobs up.

Meteors.
A meteor is a sudden luminous phenomenon, as of a star or bright body in rapid motion through the air, produced by a small mass of matter perhaps from the celestial spaces striking the air with planetary velocity, and suffering heating, dissipation, or combustion. Before encountering the earth they travel in their own orbits.

How Man Spends His Time.
A French statistician has been dabbling with figures to find out just what man does with that precious thing called time. He concludes that at the age of 50 years the average man has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500, walked 800, amused himself 4,000, spent 1,500 eating, and was ill 500 days.

A Few Thoughts

By The Way.

This world has been making history a long—long time and it would be very difficult for the most learned to approximate the length of time.

This continent bears unmistakable evidences of having been submerged at some period in the world's history, and while in that submerged state the waves were kept busy in making vast and various deposits—preparatory to the time when by some great convulsion it was to be forced upward above the surface of the waters to be kissed and purified by ozone and to be warmed by the sun's rays to make it a fit habitation for man.—(In all probability when this occurred some other continent which had become depleted by man's improvidence may have disappeared to undergo a similar process.)

I realize in penning this article that I may be unstopping a hornet's nest, nevertheless I am sure that back of creation there undoubtedly existed a Supreme Intelligence endowed with Omnipotence and Omniscience and who created all things for some wise purpose, which the finite mind has never been able to comprehend, but which is conserving the purpose originally designed.

Has it never occurred to you—that if this Great Being had wanted conditions different, He certainly would have made them different?

Civilizations and the decay of civilizations have followed each other almost without number and almost every civilization that has amounted to anything has been the result of conquest.

Had it not been for the sanguinary results following conquests the human race would have become as thick on the earth as maggots in a decaying carcass.

Periodically the human family has spasmodic spells of philanthropy and when these spells possess them, they are almost sure to launch some reform without duly considering the effect if carried into execution.

For instance, if the League of Nations was possible of attainment, and wars could be abolished entirely, in five hundred or one thousand years there would not be standing room on the earth for the human race.

I saw it stated only a few days ago, that even now in Russia the birth rate exceeds the death rate two millions per year.

6,000 MORE BABIES

Born In Kentucky.

Figures Of State Board Of Health
Show More Births And Fewer Deaths.

Six thousand more babies were born in Kentucky in 1920 than the preceding year and in 1920 2,000 fewer persons died in the State, according to a preliminary report by J. F. Blackerby, State Registrar of Vital Statistics, to Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer. The increase in births is about 10 per cent and the decrease in deaths roughly 8 per cent.

The return of the large number of Kentuckians who were in France with the American armies to their homes, and the resultant resumption of normal social conditions, is the reason given by Mr. Blackerby for the increase in the number of births. The reduction in the number of deaths that occurred in the State he explained by pointing out that the fatalities due to communicable diseases have been reduced materially and that everywhere in Kentucky more attention has been paid to sanitation and health problems.

We frankly admit, brethren, that prohibition has its good points. It furnishes a lot of good newspaper stories.

USEFUL RECIPES FOR HOUSEWIFE

How to Make All Kinds of Yeast and Quick Breads From Variety of Flours.

BREAD, ROLLS AND COOKIES

Bulletin issued by Department of Agriculture Gives Formulas for Dish—es a Little Out of Ordinary—How to Score Bread.

Do you know how to make all kinds yeast and quick breads, or are your efforts confined to the making of white bread and baking-powder biscuits? Do you know whether the bread you make is perfect of its kind or not? If you don't you can learn from Farmers' Bulletin 1136, "Baking in the Home," recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, which gives recipes for making all kinds of yeast and quick breads from different kinds of flour, as well as rolls, muffins, pastry, and cookies. Directions for scoring bread, as it is now done at the best bakers, are also included. One of the many excellent features of this bulletin is that the number each recipe will serve is given. This is particularly useful for the inexperienced housekeeper. Some recipes a little out of the ordinary which are to be found in the bulletin follow:

Cornmeal and Pumpkin Dodgers.
(10 to 12 cakes.)

1/2 cupfuls cooked 1 or 2 tablespoonfuls sweetening.
1/2 cupfuls corn 1/2 cupfuls meal.
1/2 cupfuls salt 1/2 cupfuls shortening.

To the pumpkin, which has been cooked very tender and mashed free from lumps, add the salt, sweetening, melted shortening, and cornmeal, and mix thoroughly. Have the mixture just soft enough to take up by spoonfuls and pat into flat cakes in the hand. Place on a griddle or greased baking sheet and bake for about twenty minutes in a hot oven.

If desired, the cornmeal may be added to the hot pumpkin and allowed to steam with the latter for ten minutes before adding the other ingredients.

Bread Griddle Cakes.
(Serves 5.)

1 1/2 cupfuls bread crumbs,
1/2 cupfuls sweet milk,
1/2 teaspoonful salt,
1 or 2 teaspoonfuls sweetening, if desired,
1 tablespoonful shortening.

1 egg,
1/2 cupful flour,
2 teaspoonfuls baking powder.
Scald the milk, add the crumbs, let stand for 15 minutes, then mash and beat to a paste. Add the salt, sweetening, melted shortening, and well-beaten egg. Finally, add the flour and baking powder, which have been sifted together. Bake on a hot griddle until nicely browned on both sides. (In place of baking powder and sweet milk alone, one-half cupful sweet milk may be used to moisten the crumbs and one cupful of sour milk with one-half teaspoonful baking soda for thinning and leavening the mixture.)

Potato Muffins.
(12 to 15 muffins.)

1/2 cupfuls wheat flour,
1/2 teaspoonful salt,
2 teaspoonfuls baking powder,
1 cupful cooked sweet potato (Irish potatoes may be used instead),
1 or 2 eggs,
2 tablespoonfuls shortening.
Liquid sufficient to make a rather stiff batter (about 1/2 cupful).

Boil the potatoes in the skins until tender; drain, peel, and mash fine. Putting the potato through a ricer or colander is better than mashing. Sift together the flour, salt, and baking powder. Beat the eggs until light and add to the cool mashed potato. Next add the melted shortening, then the flour mixture, alternating with portions of the liquid, until a batter is formed somewhat stiffer than for ordinary flour muffins. Drop by spoonfuls into greased muffin pans until half-filled and bake for about thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Bread Muffins.
(15 small muffins.)

1/2 cupfuls dry bread crumbs,
1 cupful milk,
1/2 teaspoonful salt,
1 egg,
1 tablespoonful shortening,
1/2 cupful flour,
2 teaspoonfuls baking powder.

Scald the milk, add the crumbs, allow to stand for 15 minutes, then mash and beat to a paste. Add the salt, beaten egg yolk, melted shortening, sweetening, and the flour and baking powder sifted together. Pour into muffin pans until half-filled, then bake for about twenty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Soy-Bean Muffins.
(10 small muffins.)

1 scant cupful soy-bean meal or flour,
1 cupful wheat flour,
1/2 teaspoonful baking powder,
2/3 cupful raisins, or chopped dates, if desired,
1 or 2 tablespoonfuls sweetening,
1 tablespoonful shortening (melted),
1 egg.

About 1 cup liquid.
Blend the dry materials and add the liquid. Add the fruit, previously dusted with flour. Do not have this batter too soft, as it does not thicken so much in baking as that made with other flours.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR CLEANING FURNITURE

Not Wise to Put Water on Varnished Surfaces.

Vacuum Cleaner or Brush Is Most Effective for Upholstery—Leather Coverings Last Longer and Look Better If Oiled.

The varnish on some furniture is so hard and smooth that finger marks and soiled places may be removed with a cloth wrung out of lukewarm suds made with neutral soap and the finish restored by rubbing with a cloth on which a few drops of light lubricating oil or furniture polish has been sprinkled. In many cases this is a good method to use on the tops of dining tables, but in general it is unwise to put water on varnished, oiled, or waxed surfaces. Painted and enameled furniture may, of course, be washed like any other surface so finished.

For upholstery either a vacuum cleaner or a brush is most effective. A soft brush is best for velvet or velours, a stiffer one for tapestry and other strong, firm materials, and a pointed one for tufted upholstery. If convenient, upholstered furniture should be taken out of doors occasionally and beaten with a flat carpet beater, or it may be cleaned indoors by the following methods: The article to be cleaned is first covered with a cloth that has been dipped in water and wrung as dry as possible, then beaten with a flat beater, the dust being taken up by the damp cloth.

Leather furniture coverings last longer and look better if rubbed occasionally with castor oil or a commercial leather polish to restore the oil that gradually dries out. The liquid should be well rubbed in and any excess wiped off the surface, otherwise this film of oil will collect and hold dirt, which will darken the leather and soil whatever touches it.

Protection for Buttons.
When a garment is put through the wringer protect the buttons by pressing them flat inside the folded garment.

WHOLESOME FOOD FOR CHILD

Liking for Large Range of Foods Is Desirable for Diet and Best Table Manners.

A meal in which all the important kinds of food are represented tends to keep the child in good condition and to give him good habits of eating, food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say. The liking for a large range of foods is desirable from the standpoint of diet and also of manners, for it helps to prevent a person from becoming a disagreeable table companion—one who is "fussy" about his food. Meals that are planned carefully help also to give the child some little idea of what those who know most about foods have in mind when they speak of a "balanced"—or, better, a "rightly chosen"—ration. With children it is far more important to suggest the value of such a ration by the character of the meals given to them than to try to tell them what it is or to what extent it has been worked out.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

Carrots are said to be a good skin clearer.

Tapoca makes a delicious thickening for soups.

Rinse a saucepan in cold water, before heating milk in it.

To produce the most perfect peonies and roses they should be planted in the fall.

Appliqued figures of cretonne on black sateen can be used for circular pillows and table runners.

Left-overs of meat, fish or vegetables may be minced or diced and heated in a cupful of white sauce or gravy.

The best method of cleansing black silk is to sponge it with a weak solution of coffee water.

A sheet that is all worn out can still be utilized by making it into a good garment protector.

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.

Pure in the can—Pure in the baking

It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way—it is the best way to keep down baking costs. That is what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder—has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years.

Good wholesome bakings can be made only of good materials, no other way, so use only good baking powder and good plain flour (not self-rising flour).

Calumet Sunshine Cake Recipe
1 1/2 cups of butter,
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 cup water, 2 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon lemon, yolks of 9 eggs. Then mix in the regular way.

Herring Fisheries.
The herring forms the chief fisheries of the British Isles, and it is estimated that 2,200,000,000 herrings are landed in Britain during one season.

Greeks Originated Ostracism.
Ostracism was a ceremony and a political move, as well as a banishment in its original workings. The word comes from the Greek "ostraea," meaning the shell of an oyster. The shells were used as ballots. Ostracism was rather a compliment, as it took 6,000 votes to remove a man by ostracism, and anyone being important enough to arouse the desire of that many to having him expelled for a period of 10 years must have been of more than usual importance.

Obeys Natural Law.
A top or any other spinning body if under no restraint, will gradually turn on its axis and point to the pole star.

Savages Use Iron Ore.
Explorers have been astonished to find in the wilds of Africa savages acquainted with the getting of iron from the ore and working it. To smelt the ore they use a primitive furnace of baked mud, with charcoal for fuel and bellows to obtain the required temperature. It seems altogether likely that the knowledge of these processes was originally derived in prehistoric days from the Arabs and Phoenicians, who then, as in later times, overran most of Africa.

KEEP YOUR BALANCE

Keep a careful itemized account of all your expenses, large and small, for one month. During that month continue to spend just as you have in the past.

At the end of the month check up your total expenditures, and NOTE THE MONEY THAT HAS BEEN LITERALLY FRITTERED AWAY.

The next step is to open a savings account with us and adopt the habit of saving in lieu of frittering. Saving leads to success. Frittering keeps you down.

Historic Mace in Commons.
The mace of the speaker of the English house of commons is a notable historical relic, for it was the mace which was carried before King Charles I when he walked to the scaffold.

Rulers' Postage Privileges.
The king of England pays no postage, which is perhaps just as well, since he yearly receives about a quarter of a million business letters. The heads of all kingdoms and republics enjoy similar privileges.

Old Irish Maps.
In the library of Trinity college, Dublin, are maps of each county in Ireland, drawn by hand on vellum in the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

Walking on Snow.
With the snowshoe, with its broad, latticed, rawhide bottom, serviceable in walking over soft snow, the wearer does not expect to develop much speed, says the American Forestry Magazine. The sport consists in walking on snow so soft that, without such appendages, he would sink into it. Northern hunters in former times made their own shoes with hatchet and knife, and if leather things were not at hand, the lattice soles could be woven of basswood bark, which can be stripped in winter as well as in summer.

Was a Mammoth Elephant.

Fossilized bones of a huge elephant recently discovered in France include a tusk weighing 440 pounds and a tooth weighing seventeen pounds. Scientists say that the animal must have stood over thirteen feet high.

Fruits And Freights.

When we buy fruits in the open market we sometimes wonder if the dealer is really making the tremendous profits with which he is credited.

The fact has been made public that it is cheaper to ship fruits from Africa than it is to send them by rail from California to New York.

It is said that a bale of goods can be shipped by water from New York to South America for less than it costs to transport it from one side of the city of New York to the other. What's the matter with our railroad system, anyway?

The exorbitant freight rates in this country are a burden to the people, and there appears to be no relief in sight.

With all of our vaunted intelligence, we do not seem to have brains enough to evolve a system of distribution that would do credit to a Fiji Islander.

Some day, perhaps, stockholders in our railroads will realize that a lot of useless "officials" are being carried on the payrolls at high salaries. They may even come to the conclusion that the services of half the number might be readily dispensed with, and that a reduction of about 50 per cent in the salaries of the remaining "higher ups" would be more in keeping with the cash value of their services.

Why Such An Effort?

Sometimes people look upon attendance at church as a duty which must be performed, and yet one which requires more or less of an effort.

When we go to a show we pay the price to see performers reproduce scenes of everyday life that are old to mankind. It affords us the change our natures require and we are satisfied.

At every church service the minister tells us something we did not know before. He extracts his information from a source that cannot be questioned, from a book that never grows old, from the fountain-head of truth and knowledge.

The pages of the Bible contain more thrilling stories and more astounding wonders than all other prints of civilization combined—and every word is truth.

All of this is yours for the going, as free as the air that you breathe. There is no ticket taker at the door, and no admission is charged. You are welcome without a price. Can you ask more?

Cause For Thanks.

In the midst of a world of turmoil, with myriads of trials and tribulations at home, we yet are a fortunate people and there is much for which we should be thankful.

We have land that is fertile in the essence of life.

We have freedom and liberty, and the unrestricted pursuit of happiness.

We are rich in the material things of life, and enjoy the right to worship as our conscience dictates.

We are enjoying wonderful and continued prosperity while the old world totters on the brink of ruin.

We are comparatively alone but thrice blessed in our isolation.

We should give thanks

BUCKEYE SCHOOL NOTES

(Delayed.)

Miss Jessie B. Ray was a guest of Mrs. J. W. Dailey Tuesday night.

The boys will get awfully tired if they have to "sit in" at every recess until school closes.

Master Clemmon May is getting along fine and we hope he will soon be well enough to come home!

Miss Westover visited out school Friday and we hope she pronounces our pupils as "sound" as the average boys and girls.

Miss Price is perfectly crazy over her kids. They all know she is in sympathy with them, because she talks to them so kindly.

Irene has been wishing for the "butterflies" to come and we think she had the luck of seeing one Sunday evening, she caught it, too.

The high school pupils were lucky enough to get their parents here last Friday evening, to enable their room to receive the picture, which the Parent-Teacher's Association presented.

Several of the Freshmen girls are planning to keep house next year, instead of coming to school—Myrtle, Roberta and Bessie are tating like they were in a great rush to complete their "Hope Chests."

There are a few who will enter the contest, which will take place at the close of this session of school. A prize of a five dollar gold piece will be awarded the speaker who is considered the winner by the judges.

ILLINOIS IN SECOND PLACE

Spectators Were Impressed With Businesslike Procedure of Youthful Judges—Two Girls Fortunate in Winning Prizes.

In the second national boys' and girls' dairy-cattle judging contest, in which 15 teams from as many states competed for the junior judging honors, the Missouri team of three boys won first place in judging all breeds of dairy cattle, second place going to Illinois, and third to Texas. A Missouri boy, Arthur Gwinn, made the highest individual score for judging all breeds. Another Missouri boy, Arthur Bennett, was second, and Clarence Doran of Illinois was third.

The awards for the best teamwork in judging different breeds were as follows: Ayrshires, Missouri; Guernseys, Maryland; Holsteins, Illinois; Jerseys, Ohio. The contest was conducted at the National Dairy show by the Boys' and Girls' club section, office of extension work North and West, states' relations service, and the dairy division, Bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

Spectators Much Impressed.

During the contest spectators were much impressed with the businesslike way in which these youthful stock judges went about their work of judging the eight rings of animals, consisting of a ring of cows and a ring of bulls of each of the following breeds: Ayrshire, Guernsey, Holstein and Jersey. It was a big day's work, but well worth the effort, as all the contestants undoubtedly gained a broader knowledge of judging dairy cows through contact with excellent types of cattle, experienced judges, and through other educational features.

Among the 45 contestants were two girls. One of the girls, Helen Greenlee of Ohio, furnished a surprise by taking first place in the judging of Jersey cattle, while Pearl Baker of Michigan won the bronze medal for judging Guernseys.

Contest Far-Reaching in Effect.

The judging work at the dairy show, while a great benefit to those boys and girls who took part in it, was only a small part of the far-reaching contest which, beginning in the local boys' and girls' clubs in many hundreds of communities, progressed to the contests for county supremacy, and then to the state championships, many of which were finally settled at the various state fairs. These state championship teams were the ones sent to compete for national honors at the dairy show.

In the contest last year only six individuals were entered, from as many states, while this year 15 states were represented with teams of three each. These 45 contestants were the guests of the National Dairy association for five days, and were taken by the association on a tour of the packing and machinery plants, and on automobile tours of the city. On the day following the contest they participated in a banquet, where the awards were presented by representatives of the various donors.

INFLUENCE OF LOAD ON PULL

Harder to Haul Wagon When Bulk of Load Is Placed Near Front, Says Iowa College.

Tests recently conducted at Iowa State college show that a wagon pulls harder when the bulk of the load is placed over the front wheels than when it is loaded over the rear ones.

The actual difference in pounds of pull amounts to nearly a hundred pounds, so that the man who carried the load from the rear of a wagon to the front not only works harder himself but he causes more work to be done by the team as well.

One of the reasons for this, say the testers, is that the front wheels are smaller and that they open up tracks for the rear ones.

Where trucks are used it is of an advantage to load on the rear since it aids in the traction and keeps the wheels on the ground.

BECOMING TO MATRONS

The fine art of dressing up to one's age demands dignified, brilliant and beautiful hats for middle life. Matrons wear such lovely and fluttering bits of millinery as the hat at the top of the group above with braid crown and malines brim in brown. A wreath of metallic silk roses interspersed with grasses livens it with rich color. The hat at the left is a favorite shape with up-rolling brim and a soft crown of silk braid.

FORECASTING SPRING

This lovely frock of gray crepe-de-chine may be taken as a criterion of the spring styles for afternoon wear. It fulfills all the requirements of the mode, beginning with the most important, and that is simplicity. It has a slip-over bodice, fastening on the shoulder, a long tunic laid in plaits and a plain underskirt. Between the high and the low waistline it chooses the latter and makes a compromise between long and short sleeves with the three-quarter length, flaring style. Spring is written in all its details but emphasized in the eyelet embroidery and silk disks that make up its decorations. The odd opening at the front, which distinguishes this dress, revealing a little button-trimmed vestee of lace, is a feature of the new styles. Often it glimpses a bright color.

A THREE MINUTE SERMON

"Despising Mother."

(By Geo. Gowen.)

"Despise not thy mother when she is old." (Prov. 23:22.) She may be old and in comparison with the young and gay you may see little grace and beauty in her; the flush may have faded from her cheek, and the lustre may have vanished from her eye; the step that was once free and bounding may be slow and full of weariness; the voice that was once musical may be choked with grief and shattered by age; but it is not for you to despise her in her weakness, weariness and infirmity.

Your mother has seen more of life than you have, and "wise in your own conceit" as you may be, she is wiser far than you. She has seen life's lights and shades, its joys and sorrows; has been tried with sore and bitter trials; has looked down through the blinding tears into the open graves of those she loved; has seen friends come and go; has watched by the sick and closed the eyes of the dying; has cared for you in the hours of infancy, feebleness and helplessness; has lavished upon you the love of her heart, the freshness, the strength and beauty of her life; has sacrificed comforts, pleasures and prospects, that she might gratify your desires; and it is not for you to "despise her when she is old." You may deem yourself independent; you may think that you do not need her counsels or her aid; but this is more than you can tell. There may be times when beauty will have faded, and health and friendship will have passed away, and your sad, yearning, broken heart, will pine again for a mother's patience a mother's tenderness, a mother's love. Others may smile on you in the day of prosperity, and turn from you when the storms of adversity gather, but when every earthly friend forsakes, a mother's heart still beats with tender sympathy, and a mother's hands are still out-stretched to comfort, succor and sustain.

Despise not thy mother when she is OLD." She may have "outlived her usefulness," she may have neither strength or beauty; she may be unable to comfort or to charm; but still in her weakness she can PRAY. And when the shadows gather around you, and every earthly hope seems failing, you will prize then, in all its richness, the blessing of a mother's prayers.

"Despise not thy MOTHER." She has borne you in her arms and on her heart through years of care and conflict; she still bears you in the arms of sympathy and her love. Others may forget you but she will remember; and before the throne of glory, and in the presence of the King, it will be her joy to greet you with the words, "Behold I, and the children which God hath given me." (Heb. 2:13.)

Original "Limerick." The word is said to have been adopted as a name for a certain kind of nonsense rhyme because an old song current in Ireland, which had the same verse construction, contained the place name "Limerick."

HUMOR OF BOYS

"MY next door neighbor has a boy who is going to get into trouble if he doesn't reform," said the retired merchant. "He's always playing idiotic tricks on me, and I'm getting tired of it. This morning, as I was leaving home, I found my front gate nailed shut, and I had to climb over it, and nearly broke my back doing it."

"I wouldn't give three cents for a boy who didn't play tricks," replied the hotel-keeper. "I expect you were as giddy as the rest of them when you were young. Whenever a boy puts up a job on me, and I feel myself getting mad, I recall some of my own exploits when I was a lad, and that enables me to forget my troubles."

"I was looking through an ancient album last evening, and saw the pictures of a lot of people who fell off the earth many years ago. They were venerable men and women in my schooldays, and I had played tricks on every one of them; not with malice aforethought, but just because a kid must have his fun."

"There was a picture of old Aunt Betsy, who used to come to our house once in a while, on a visit, and as soon as she came she took charge of everything. She knew how to do things better than anybody else, and she was always criticizing my mother's methods. Whenever mother started to do anything, Aunt Betsy would take the job out of her hands, saying she would show the right way to do it."

"I had heard somewhere that if you put a drop or two of acetic acid in a gallon of cream, that cream will never make butter. I had a great memory for such facts, and kept them on file where they would be useful. One morning mother said she would have to churn, and she got things ready. I knew that as soon as she started Aunt Betsy would want to show her how it should be done, so when I had a chance, I dropped some of the acid into the churn, which was one of those old upright affairs, with a dasher that you worked up and down until the butter came."

"Mother seated herself on a stool and began churning, and then Aunt Betsy came along, and said that while she was a modest and unassuming woman, she did claim to know a little more about churning than anybody of her weight in that part of the country. 'Let me do it, my dear,' said she, 'and I'll have butter in seven minutes by the clock.' So she took hold of the dasher and began slapping away with it. She worked and worked, and the sweat began rolling down her face, and every once in a while she'd lift the lid of the churn to see what ailed the doggone cream, and then she'd pour in some cold water, and then some hot water, and the more she wrestled away, the less sign of butter was there."

"She whanged away at that ding-busted churn for two hours and couldn't get results, and she was so mad and disgusted over it she wanted to pack her trunk and go back home. Mother saw me rolling around in the yard all doubled up with unholy mirth, and she realized at once, by deductive reasoning, that I was responsible, and the licking I got that evening took the edge off my sense of humor for three weeks."

"Another time, Uncle James was visiting us. He used to sit in a rustic chair under an apple tree and doze after dinner. He had a bald head, and his hat always slid off after he had dozed a few times. One day I sneaked up behind him with a feather and began tickling his head. He'd slap his dome of thought and cuss a little, and then doze again, when I would get busy with the feather. That went on for quite a while, and I was having the time of my life. I never heard any language more highly colored than Uncle James put up."

"My mother heard him saying things, and came to the door and asked him what was the matter, and he said a ding-donged lopsided fly was chewing his scalp off. He had chased it away three million times, but it always came back. I got another licking that night, and my mind was occupied with serious things for a month."
